Minden OPP Constable Gary Chapman and Archie Stouffer Elementary School teacher Glen Carter show off the Solicitor General's Awards they received at a ceremony November 3 in recognition of their work with students in the VIP program. Chapman and Carter started the program in Minden five years ago. The Solicitor General's award is presented annually to individuals and groups for outstanding community service achievements.

Flipped vehicle traps pair

Two passengers were trapped in a vehicle which slid off the slush-covered Horseshoe Lake Road One Saturday.

According to the police, 74 year old William Richardson of Willowdale was travelling along the road when he lost control of the vehicle in the wet snow. The 1983 model Dodge station wagon left the road ending up on its roof in the ditch.

The Minden Fire Department was called to the scene to assist in rescuing the two occupants. The pair were taken to Minden Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Damage to the car was estimated at $6000.

The accident was investigated by Constable Gary Chapman.

Man sentenced

Shawn Wilkinson, 21, of Haliburton, was sentenced to three months in jail and two years probation after he was convicted of break, enter and theft in Provincial Court November 12.

Concern expressed for airport trespassers

Stanhope municipal council has expressed serious concern about trespassers on the township's airstrip. On at least three occasions in the past few weeks, the OPP have given warnings to hunters caught on the runway. Airport Committee member Derek Rolfe told the October 12 meeting. At least one of those hunters, council learned, returned to the airstrip after the police had left.

Rolfe said that anyone who uses a gun near planes taking off and landing is a serious threat to safety. "And besides the danger," he added, "trespassing on an airstrip is a federal violation."

Last year the township also passed a bylaw making it illegal for unauthorized people to walk on the airstrip.

The problem of trespassers comes at a particularly inopportune time for council, which is in the midst of negotiations with the federal Ministry of Transportation for funds to upgrade the airstrip. Rolfe said that if federal inspectors discovered trespassers at the airport, the township would probably have its licence suspended.

"And those inspectors are tough," Rolfe explained. "A few years ago, one of them came around and discovered that our snowbanks around the strip were 12 inches higher than regulation. Our licence was suspended for the rest of the winter."

Rolfe told the council of one instance two years ago when a plane was prevented from landing because a hunter had parked his truck on the airstrip. The pilot had to fly to Gravenhurst to land.

Although trespassing is worst during hunting season, it often happens at other times of the year.

Speaking to a Times reporter after the council meeting, Rolfe said vandals had wandered on to the airstrip and damaged both planes and township property on a number of occasions. Once, he explained, people had broken into his own plane and caused $1,500 damage. And it is not uncommon for trespassers to drive on to the strip and put ruts in it by spinning their wheels and turning sharp corners.

The OPP have agreed to charge airport trespassers.

Museum teeters under burden of unpaid taxes

Already struggling with severe financial difficulties, University of Toronto Professor Kirk Wipper's canoe museum near Camp Kandalore has been dealt another blow. Stanhope council rejected a request from Wipper to forgive interest on back taxes owed to the township and to give some consideration to the taxes themselves, at the November 12 meeting. Wipper's present tax bill is about $16,000.

The Kanawa International Museum of Canoes, Kayaks, and Rowing Craft - believed to be the largest of its kind in the world - already has a deficit of $300,000. Last year alone, Wipper said in an interview, the museum chalked up a deficit of $47,000.

"That's all my life savings," he said. "I'm due to retire next year and the situation is desperate."

For the past few years there has been a move afoot to find a new home for the museum and money to cover its debts but, as Wipper says, time is running out.

Stanhope council has already done a lot to help the museum but in the discussion over Wipper's most recent request, Reeve Harry Davis expressed frustration with the organization. Wipper, said Davis, could be doing much more than he is to help his museum reduce its debt.

If Wipper is unable to come up with money to pay his bill, the township can place a lien on the museum property. If the bill still remains unpaid a year and a day after the lien is registered, the township becomes the legal owner of the property. As yet, no lien has been placed.

Wipper founded the canoe museum 30 years ago as part of Camp Kandalore, of which he was then director. In 1975 he sold the camp and had his museum registered as a non-profit institution. Recently he sold his Toronto home in order to help pay the museum's debts.

Wipper's museum has been written up by both the Toronto Star and Saturday Night Magazine.

"Everybody applauds the museum," says Wipper. "But very few people know my personal financial situation. I'm troubled. Of course I'm troubled."

Anson, Hindon, Minden council briefs

Anson, Hindon and Minden council met November 10 and discussed the following items.

- Roads superintendent Clayton Cameron presented his monthly report. It was agreed that winter sanding of roads would be carried out at superintendent's discretion. Cameron said he would be hiring a part-time employee from December 1986 until April, 1987.

- Clerk-treasurer Beverly Millar reported on prgrams which the municipality could take advantage of under the provincial government's Destinations East scheme. Council was told that some Minden events such as the Winter Carnival and the Ridge for Sight could be eligible for assistance.

- Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said he was interested to find out if the municipality could receive assistance to develop land owned near the Village of Ingoldsby for a nature park. Miller agreed to look into the possibility.

- Council passed a resolution supporting scrap metal dealer Rick Harding's proposal to set up a roll-off dump box for metal collection at the Scotch Line dump.

- An Environment Ministry recommendation that the municipality recycle some household waste to lengthen the life of the present dump was discussed. Possible ways of waste recycling were also talked about.

- Council supported a petition to the provincial government asking for increased grants for fitness, sports, recreational, and cultural facilities. The petition is being circulated by Brampton City Council.

- A letter from the Minden Lawn Bowling Club requesting a grant to cover its rent payments for its building on the Bobcaygeon Road was discussed. Council will arrange a meeting with the lawn bowlers and Agricultural Society before making a decision.

- A letter from Mr. Kari Siirala asking the municipality to pay for a survey of a portion of his property was discussed. Siirala had the survey done under the belief that it would be incorporated into an agreement with Stanhope Township and Anson, Hindon and Minden to close a section of road allowance running along the border of Minden and Stanhope and crossing his land. Though Stanhope went through with the agreement, Minden did not. Council will invite Siirala to the first council meeting in December to discuss the problem.

Acid rain report

The following report on precipitation events at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset was prepared by Environment Canada. Two events were recorded during the past week. (NOTE: while the seasons have changed and the precipitation is now snow rather than rain, our report will continue to be headlined with the more familiar phrase 'acid rain'.)

- November 12, 7 cm of snow, pH 4.4, from Wisconsin, Michigan and southern Ontario.

- November 13, 1 cm of snow, pH 4.8, from Manitoba, Lake Superior, Lake Huron.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive area regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous to the environment. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Thefts

Police are investigating a number of thefts reported during the past week. Among the items taken are: a quantity of alcohol and a Pioneer chain saw from Buller Lake in Lutterworth Township; three snowmobiles from the Kennis Lake area including a 1986 Ski-Doo "ST", white, a 1986 Ski-Doo "MX", yellow, and a 1980 Moto-Ski "Super Sonic", orange; a portable disc player removed from a Raven Lake cottage.

Police are also seeking the owner of an Olympic snowmobile which was recently found in the Minden area. The owner is advised to claim the property at the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Two very important people

The provincial Solicitor General has honoured two area residents with special community service awards. The presentations to Constable Gary Chapman and teacher Glen Carter were made in recognition of their initiative and interest in establishing the V.I.P. program in county schools.

The initials V.I.P. stand for Values, Influences and Peers. The program is aimed at students at the grade six level, just the age when youngsters are beginning to make decisions for themselves. Rather than attempting to spell out the right and wrong of every situation, the program encouraged the students to make their own assessments, and with the assistance of the instructors, discover for themselves the answers to the choices they face. Perhaps one of the most important aspects of the program is to show youths how to resist peer pressure and to let their own values prevail.

The program also included practical lessons in personal and family safety, street proofing is the term currently in use.

An indication of the program's value can be seen in communities across the province where similar efforts are just getting started.

Judging by the enthusiasm of students who have taken part in the program over the past few years and the endorsements of their parents, there seems little doubt that the V.I.P. program is a worthwhile and valuable exercise.

We add our vote of appreciation and we feel sure the community's as well, to the special award presented to Constable Gary Chapman and teacher Glen Carter. They can be counted among our own V.I.P.'s.

Still waters

Southern flag fever

- by Arthur Black -

One thing our country has never been is a nation of flag wavers, and that's perfectly alright with me. The Americans of course, hold quite a different viewpoint. Most Americans are flag looney — have been for many moons, thanks mainly to a jingoistic poem penned by a 19th century poetaster by the name of John Greenleaf Whittier. He invented a silver-haired Civil War heroine by the name of Barbara Frietchie, dreamed up an encounter between her and Confederate General Stonewall Jackson and immortalized the whole thing in verse. In the central incident of the poem, frail old 96-year-old Ms. Frietchie throws herself in front of Old Glory, faces down the might of Stonewall's troops and croaks:

*"Shoot if you must, this old gray head
But spare your country's flag."*

General Jackson, ever the Southern gentleman, barks:

"Who touches a hair on yon gray head Dies like a dog."

Nice story — totally fictitious but a heart-string plucker, nonetheless. Heck, that poem was such a hit that it was taught in Canadian schools when I was growing up. I'm no expert on American folklore, but I'd be willing to wager a couple of shipplasters that America's tendency to wave flags on the flimsiest of pretexts, stems from that very poem.

Canadians, on the other hand, have never made much of a big deal about bunting. Oh, there was a modest guffuffle back in 1965 when the Maple Leaf replaced the Canadian Ensign, but that was about it for flaps over flags here in Canada. Down in The States, the 200-year-old love affair with Old Glory burns on unabated. They fly her on their buildings, they fly her on their homes. They stick her on their mailboxes and car no-drafts and Going Out of Business

Fire Sales. Flag frenzy shows perfectly the American tendency to trivialize that which they hold most dear: you can go to jail for 25 years in Texas for "desecrating the flag", and yet it's considered patriotic to have the Stars and Stripes tattooed on your bicep.

If there's a middle ground between America's flagmania and Canada's flag apathy, I think you'll find it's occupied by Whitney Smith. Mister Smith lives in Winchester, Massachusetts and he is a vexillologist — which is to say, an expert on flags. As a matter of fact, Whitney Smith is the only full-time vexillologist in North America. He is also executive director of The Flag Research Center and publisher of The Flag Bulletin, which goes out every two months to some 800 flag fanciers around the world.

So what's a full-time vexillologist do from nine to five? Mister Smith doesn't seem to have any trouble filling in the hours. Something flagworthy seems to be happening somewhere on the planet on any given day. Sometimes it's very subtle. Not too long ago for instance, The Philippines decided that the shade of blue in their national flag needed brightening. Fine for Filipinos, but who gets the word out to other governments, the United Nations and various Encyclopedia publishers around the world? Whitney Smith picked up the fallen standard. "I put the information in their hands as fast as I can" he says.

Some folks are interested in flags. Some folks like them a lot. Whitney Smith loves the things. He works at his vocation nine hours a day, seven days a week, 52 weeks a year. Not surprisingly, he keeps an impressive collection of flags — more than 1300 of them — spread out in a special, humidity-controlled storage room connected to his

Editor:

I would like to address this letter through your paper to the students of Haliburton County.

By now, most of you are aware I no longer will be visiting you in your classroom to talk (and listen) to topics of safety and other concerns. My five year term as Community Services Officer has ended and a different officer has been appointed. I am sure you will enjoy your visits with him as well.

I want you to know the time spent with you has been the most rewarding of my 23 years service with the police force. At your age, 5 years is a large span of time and I'm happy to have been a part of those formative years. We've shared many enjoyable moments together and have learned a lot too. The way you threw those questions at me made me afraid not to have the answers each time I visited.

One of the reasons I shared those learning sessions with you was to provide an awareness of the dangers you may expect during your young life. To assist you in making those difficult decisions when faced with dangerous or harmful situations. To that end we shared many interesting experiences: the light-hearted movie with the "talking schoolbus"; the sobering vision of a teenager overdosing; the telephone that rang and asked if you were home alone. How about the time we arrested your teacher and placed him/her on trial for theft of a tractor? And the countless times you talked me into demonstrating my handcuffs (I always prayed I hadn't forgotten my key.) All of these memories will remain with me.

My main goal in my visits with you however, was to establish a bond between you, our young community members, and myself and all police personnel. To have you understand a police force is part of your community and is made up of people just like you. People who work and play. Who raise families. Who are interested in sports and who have hobbies. When you understand we're there to help you when you need us and that we're working together for a better community then the job for both of us becomes so much easier.

I have to say, judging from my experiences throughout the County, you have understood the message clearly. Thank you and best wishes for a safe and rewarding future.

Prosperity means more money for municipalities

- by John Eakins, MPP -

A healthy provincial economy will mean an increase in the transfer payments that will go to municipalities, hospitals, colleges, universities and school boards.

Treasurer Robert Nixon told members of the legislature that these major transfer announcements will permit this Government to strengthen its partnerships with local governments and with those who deliver major services on behalf of the province.

In the 1985 Budget, Mr.

Nixon had indicated the Ontario Government's intention to announce transfer payments to the major recipients early in their budgetary cycle, so that they could plan effectively for the coming year. He had also announced that these transfer payments would increase by four per cent in 1987 - 88.

This week, my colleague confirmed that the government is honouring these commitments. In fact, because provincial revenues are expected to increase by $405 million over the budget estimate, many transfer payments will be able to increase at a higher rate.

Ontario hospitals will receive a 7.4 per cent of $345 million increase in 1987 - 88, bringing the total budget for hospital operations to approximately $5 billion for next year. As well, Health Minister Murray Elston said Ontario's 43 health units across the province will receive an average increase of 6.8 per cent, for a total of $130 million in funding.

Total funding for the operation of universities will increase by 7.3 per cent to more than 1.4 billion in 1987 - 88. Colleges and Universities Minister Gregory Sorbara said this translates into $148.7 million in new base funding. Of this amount, $60 million will go to promote accessibility, encourage more research activity, and address special needs in the North.

An amount of $37 million will be used to continue funds started in 1986 - 87 to purchase needed teaching equipment and library materials and to hire new faculty. The remaining $51.7 million of the increase will fulfill the commitment to base funding for universities announced in October 1985. As well, tuition increases will be kept to 4 per cent.

Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology will get an operating increase of 4.3 per cent next year. With the inclusion of the Colleges Excellence Fund in the base grants, the over-all increase in the two years of Liberal Government in Ontario will average 10.9 per cent.

School boards will receive increased operating grants of 5.5 per cent. Education Minister Sean Conway said an additional $147.2 million has been allocated for capital projects next year. This money will be used to provide new facilities in high-growth regions, make much-needed renovations and additions to existing facilities and provide for the extension of the separate school system.

Municipalities

Municipalities will receive an increase of 5 per cent in their budgets for a total of $3.6 billion in transfer payments. As well, Municipal Affairs Minister Bernard Grandmaitre said nearly $40 million in new funds will go to municipalities under the unconditional grants program, for a total of $821.3 million in 1987 - 88.

The unconditional grants program will benefit the Victoria - Haliburton area considerably. In 1987, an estimated total of $1,412,156 will be forwarded to municipalities in Haliburton County. This represents an increase of 15.7 per cent.

In Victoria County, municipalities will receive an estimated $3,755,213 in 1987. This represents an increase of 9.6 per cent. These grants are unconditional, which means the locally elected municipal councils can spend this money in the areas they feel are in most need.

My colleague, the Honourable Ed Fulton, Minister of Transportation and Communications said his ministry will continue the $30 million Ontario Municipal Improvement Fund, which will provide funding for roads and much-needed municipal transportation improvements in 1987 - 88. This is in addition to a 4.6 per cent increase in base funding for municipal roads construction and maintenance for a total allocation of $586.9 million.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation of Canada, I would like to express our most sincere appreciation to the community organizations in Minden for their donations of close to $1,000.00 to the 1986 Ride for Sight.

These funds donated by the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, Minden Firefighters, Minden and District Lions Club, Minden Times, Rotary Club of Minden, and St. Paul's Anglican Church bring the total raised for RP Eye research in Ontario to $165,000.00. The National Ride for Sight total is close to $435,000.00.

Not only are the donations for research appreciated, but also the contribution by these community groups to making the Ride for Sight rally in Minden fun and such a success for all the participants.

The 1987 Ride for Sight will be held June 13th and 14th. The motorcyclists hope to be able to return to Minden next year - so do I.

Congratulations to our M.P.P.s in passing overwhelmingly a resolution, stating that Ontario should be a Nuclear Free Zone.

It is one small, important step toward removing the madness of the nuclear arms build-up in our world community. Hopefully, this positive action in the Ontario Legislature will now encourage our County Councillors to make Haliburton the 52nd municipality in Ontario, to specifically declare itself to be a Nuclear Free Zone.

Stanhope seeks way to cut insurance costs

Stanhope council is considering one way of lowering the high cost of insurance. At the November 12 meeting council discussed a proposal from the Rural Ontario Municipalities Association to take part in a self-insurance scheme with about 200 other municipalities and townships.

This year Stanhope paid $5,800 for liability coverage of up to $10 million. Under the ROMA scheme the township would pay only $2,600 for the same coverage.

It was pointed out at the meeting however that under the ROMA scheme, Stanhope would have to pay the first $10,000 of any claims made against it. The present private insurance company policy requires the township to pay only the first $500 of such claims.

Council was told the ROMA scheme would cost less because the township would take a bigger risk.

Under the proposed scheme, Stanhope would insure itself against risks up to $1 million. Claims of more than $1 million and less than $10 million would be met by a private insurance policy.

Clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain told council he was aware of only two serious claims against Stanhope in recent years.

Very Important People

People of all ages and all walks of life do important and essential jobs as Red Cross volunteers.

There is a new Ontario law that provides workers with greater protection against toxic agents.

Whether you work in an office, a mine, a factory, or a shop, you could be exposed to hazardous biological or chemical agents without ever knowing it.

On November 6, a new regulation was made by the Ontario Government which will come into effect December 6, 1986. This new regulation provides greater protection to everyone in the workplace in two different ways. First, it sets out specific legal limits on exposures to more than 600 different toxic agents. And second, it requires exposures to toxic agents in the workplace to be reduced by engineering controls, such as improved ventilation, rather than by the use of respirators.

If you'd like a listing of the agents and information about the exposure limits placed on them, visit the Ontario Ministry of Labour Office nearest you.

If you'd like to order a copy of the booklet which contains the regulation and lists the toxic substances and exposure limits, send a cheque or money order for $1.00, payable to the Treasurer of Ontario, to:

Program will honour outstanding volunteers

Minister of Citizenship and Culture Lily Munro announced November 30 and December 15 will be the nomination deadlines for the 1987 Outstanding Achievement and Volunteer Service Awards.

"These awards are held to honour the many hardworking individuals and organizations who have made major contributions to volunteerism in citizenship and cultural activities," Dr. Munro said.

Outstanding Achievement Awards are given in three categories:

- Individuals demonstrating outstanding volunteer efforts such as special dedication, leadership abilities, innovation or initiative can be nominated by non-profit organizations.

- Non-profit organizations which imaginatively involve volunteers in program delivery, recruitment, or skills training may be nominated by a member volunteer or by another non-profit group.

- Businesses supporting volunteer organizations by helping with personnel, lending professional expertise, equipment or facilities and fund-raising may be nominated by non-profit organizations.

Last year, recipients of Outstanding Achievement Awards included:

- The Port Colborne Operatic Society which returned its profits to the community.

- A group from the small community of Curve Lake, near Peterborough, which raised $41,000 to rebuild its burned down community centre.

- Dofasco Steel of Hamilton for assisting the Dundas Valley Art School and the Hamilton Philharmonic Orchestra.

Applications will be reviewed by a 10-member jury appointed by the Minister. The awards, specially created by Ontario artist, Paula Letki, will be presented in February to 15 recipients at a special ceremony in Toronto.

Nominations for Volunteer Service Awards are also now being accepted until December 15, 1986.

"These awards are presented to volunteers who have donated their time and efforts for five, ten and fifteen or more years to non-profit organizations whose activities relate to the mandate of the Ministry," Dr. Munro said.

Non-profit organizations may nominate up to a maximum of six individuals each year for recognition. Lapel pins signifying the various categories of service will be presented to individuals throughout the province in ceremonies in the spring of 1987.

"Last year more than 2,800 men and women working in the areas of culture and citizenship were presented five, ten and fifteen year service pins," the Minister said. "As a volunteer myself, I realize the importance of acknowledging the tremendously beneficial work volunteers are performing. The joy of receiving these awards was

Rural psychiatry requires a special touch

Caring for the mentally ill of rural Ontario is one of the toughest jobs in the health care industry, nurse Nancy Peplinskie and psychiatrist Alan Davidson told a meeting of nurses at the PineStone Inn over the weekend.

Peplinskie, a Renfrew County mental health nurse who travels throughout her district to see her patients, and Davidson, a controversial Muskoka - Haliburton psychiatrist, were taking part in a series of seminars organized by the Operating Room Nurses Association of south central Ontario.

In a talk called 'Lunatics at Large' (they stressed that the title referred to themselves), Peplinskie and Davidson explained how they went out to meet patients in their own homes, often driving great distances every day to keep appointments. The virtue of this method of treatment, they said, is that people who can't afford or are afraid to step into a psychiatrist's office can get the help they need.

"I'm on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week," Peplinskie said. "Renfrew County is the largest in Ontario and so is my case load." She added that in her work she deals with everything from mental illness to marriage counselling.

Problems in rural areas are the same as they are in the cities only in the country they become aggravated by harsh living conditions, Peplinskie explained. "And also things like violence, drugs, and drinking are much more visible."

Davidson, who has received considerable publicity for his unique practice from such quarters as CBC's Fifth Estate and Harrowsmith Magazine, spoke of the difficulty of persuading country people to step into a psychiatrist's office. The stigma of mental illness is just too great. That's why he opted to search out and visit his patients on their own turf, he explained.

Davidson also referred to the problem of cracking what he described as the country code. This, he said, in rural etiquette and psychology, something quite different from what you find in the city. Of particular importance is the need to deal informally and as an equal with patients. To this end, Davidson said, he frequently conducts his sessions over a cup of coffee in a restaurant or while driving about in his car.

"But even now after eight years out of Toronto I've only scratched the surface of the country code. And I'll never really understand how country folk think," he said.

Davidson graduated from the University of Toronto School of Medicine in 1956. After his Royal College exams in psychiatry he began practicing in Toronto where he stayed until moving to Bracebridge in 1978.

"A resourceful and determined champion of the underdog," as he describes himself, Davidson told the audience of his reverence for Dr. Norman Bethune, the Canadian doctor who inspired both animosity and awe among the medical profession for his accomplishments - invention of a successful blood transfusion technique - and arrogant behavior.

Just as Bethune treated his patients among Mao Tse Tung's communist army as he found them at the battle front, so Davidson once said, he treats his patients in rural Ontario.

Doctor Alan Davidson and nurse Nancy Peplinskie addressed a seminar organized by the Operating Room Nurses Association of South Central Ontario held recently at PineStone Inn.

Redmen win season opener 7 - 3

Led by the three goal performance of Jaro Cooper, the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen coasted to a relatively easy 7-3 win in their opening game in the North Kawartha Boys High School Hockey League. The season opener against Kenner Secondary School of Peterborough was played before an appreciative and supportive audience of students Wednesday afternoon at the Haliburton arena. The students were given the afternoon off to help boost the spirits of their team in its first foray into high school hockey.

The enthusiastic cheering appeared to be the tonic the team needed as they grabbed a quick three goal lead in the opening period of play. Cooper scored the first goal for the team connecting at the 13:14 mark on a pass from Tom MacLeod.

Cooper's second goal came with one minute and fourteen seconds remaining in the opening frame. In an unassisted effort he beat the Peterborough goalie. 18 seconds later Ted Paish added to the Redmen's edge, scoring on a pass from Tran LaRue and Mike MacNaull.

The only Peterborough scoring in the second period came at the 14:16 mark when Glenn Campbell with the visiting team beat Redmen netminder Andrew Burk on an unassisted effort. The Kenner squad was able to hold Haliburton at bay until the final seconds of the period when Cooper notched goal number three for him at the eight second mark. Assists were awarded to Paul Kuno and Tom MacLeod.

Peterborough again scored in the opening minutes of the period connecting at the 14:16 mark of the final frame. Paul Day was the marksman with Jeff Hutchinson picking up the assist.

Mike MacNaull responded for the Redmen at the 11:17 mark with assists by Tran LaRue and John Wells. Paul Kuno put the game out of the visitors grasp at 4:07 with assists from MacLeod and Ron Perrin.

The Peterborough team managed one more goal at 3:30 of the third period. Wayne Grant scored from Mike Harnish. One more goal for the Redmen rounded out the goal as Ted Paish connected at 2:34, the assist going to MacNaull.

The visitors picked up 22 minutes in penalties with the Redmen being assessed 14 minutes.

The teams displayed a fast paced brand of hockey. What they may have lacked in playing discipline, the players made up for with individual enthusiasm. It's the beginning of a long season with plenty of time for the teams to gel.

The next home game for the Redmen is Wednesday

Redmen hockey players, in white jerseys, surround the Peterborough net during the opening game in the North Kawartha Boys Hockey League season Wednesday afternoon at the Haliburton arena. The HHSS team got off to a good start with a 7-1 victory over the Kenner team. To the left of the net, Tom MacLeod and Paul Kuno, 12, keep an eye on the action as the Kenner goalie attempts to control the puck.

evening, tonight, (November 19) at the Haliburton Arena at 7:15 p.m. when they play Adam Scott Secondary School from Peterborough. General admission is $3. The Redmen play again next Tuesday evening against Thomas A. Stewart Secondary School in Peterborough. The action returns to the Haliburton Arena next Wednesday (November 26) with a game against Crestwood.

Canadian economy showing strength says M.P.

- by Bill Scott, MP -

The Canadian economy has been showing growing signs of strength since September 1984. For the first time in eight years, the prime rate, the inflation rate, and the unemployment rate are all in single digits.

The unemployment rate has fallen from 11.7% in September 1984 to 9.4% in October 1986. This is the lowest rate since March 1982. The youth unemployment rate has fallen from 18.4% to 14.9%, a decline of 3.5 percentage points.

Total unemployment has fallen by 255,000 since September 1984. The number of unemployed youth has fallen by 119,000. The number of unemployed women has fallen by 98,000. Jobs are being created at a monthly rate of 24,400 compared to 7,345 under the last Liberal government. We have created 610,000 jobs in 25 months, compared to 404,000 in 55 months.

Since the election, the Bank of Canada rate has fallen by 3.79 percentage points to 8.59%. The rate on five-year mortgages has fallen by 3 percentage points to 11.4%. This represents a savings of $100 per month on a $50,000 mortgage. The interest rate on five-year Farm Credit Corporation loans has fallen by 3.14 percentage points to 10.34% - the lowest rate since 1979. The Chartered Bank

Prime Rate has fallen by 3 1/4 percentage points to 9 3/4%, the lowest rate since April 1978.

Housing starts last year were at their highest level in four years. Housing starts in September were at a "seasonally adjusted at annual rates" level of 227,000, an increase of 61% since the election.

The number of foreign travellers (one or more nights) in the first eight months of 1986 was up 17% compared to the same period last year.

Consumer spending is rising, and that is good news for retailers, small businesses, manufacturers and the unemployed. Retail sales have increased by 8% in the past year (August 1986 vs August 1985) and by 22% since the election. Consumer confidence is at its highest level in 21 years, and at its second highest level on record. In 1985, the value of building permits was up 26% compared to 1984. In the first seven months of 1986, building permits were up 28% compared to the same period in 1985, and up 57% compared to the same period in 1984. The inflation rate (CPI) has been in the 4% range for two years, the most stable price environment since 1971.

The number of Canadians living below the Statistics Canada poverty line declined by 300,000 in 1985, the first such decline since 1981. Real family income increased for the first time since 1980.

According to the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, the number of small business births increased by 11% last year.

The Progressive Conservative government inherited a deficit of $38.3 billion. Last year, the deficit fell to $34.4 billion. This year, the deficit will be $32 billion or less. This will be the first time in sixteen years that the deficit has declined for two consecutive years.

Excluding debt service costs, spending declined by $0.8 billion last year. This was the first significant decline in program expenditures since the Second World War.

Both Norland and Minden fire departments were called to fight a blaze on Moore Lake Monday, November 3. They were unable to save the trailer home of Toronto resident Larry Hudson. The fire started approximately at 2:40 p.m. in the kitchen while Hudson was outside. When he saw the fire, he sent his son to the nearest telephone which was at a marina on Highway 35, at least a mile away. The damage is estimated at roughly $15,000.

Stanhope, Bicroft receive OHRP grants

Two $40,000 Ontario Home Renewal (OHRP) grants for the townships of Stanhope and Bicroft were announced recently by M.P.P. John Eakins (Victoria - Haliburton), on behalf of Alvin Curling, Minister of Housing.

The townships were among six municipalities receiving a total of $240,000 provincial OHRP funding.

Administered by municipalities, the program assists homeowners to upgrade their homes, with the emphasis on faulty structural and sanitary conditions, and on plumbing, insulation, heating and electrical systems.

Loans of up to $7,500 are made available to eligible owner-occupants who wish to bring their homes up to standard. A portion of a loan may be forgiven, depending on the recipient's income. Interest rates range from zero to eight per cent, again depending on income.

Physically - disabled homeowners, or homeowners with physically-disabled relatives living permanently with them, may qualify for loans of up to $9,500. This special maximum loan recognizes the extra costs involved in alterations that make homes more accessible inside and outside.

For applicants, the maximum annual qualifying income, after allowable deductions are made, is $20,000.

Since 1974, Stanhope has received $340,067 in grants which have helped upgrade 71 homes. In Bicroft $60,000 in grants have been spent to upgrade 29 homes.

OHRP benefits are available to owner-occupants in all municipalities which have adopted minimum housing standards bylaws or resolutions establishing standards, and have decided to take part in the program. In communities without municipal boundaries, OHRP is administered by the Ministry of Housing in conjunction with the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines.

OHRP is one of the province's rehabilitation initiatives designed to help conserve housing.

Car-animal collisions pose threat to drivers

Next to excessive speed, animal-vehicle crashes are the number two cause of accidents in northern Ontario and remain a significant problem in all other areas of the province.

According to the Ontario Provincial Police, there were approximately 3,100 car crashes involving animals last year in Ontario. While many of these accidents involved smaller game, a significant number of larger animals were struck. A car hitting an 1,800 to 2,000 pound moose is colliding with an object that is two-thirds the size of a standard vehicle.

While deer and bear are also frequently struck, moose pose a particular danger as they roam the forest edge. Highway rights-of-ways create excellent moose habitat by providing a food supply adjacent to forest cover. Moose are also attracted to roadside pools where salt has collected from winter road salting.

The problem is further complicated by the fact that moose are most active at dawn and dusk. During these periods driving visibility is poor and moose are often not seen by motorists until it is too late to avoid an accident. Adding to the danger, speeding motorists over-drive their headlights so they are unable to see an animal in time to avoid it.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is currently attempting to increase the size of the moose herd in the province. As the moose herd increases, the number of accidents involving animals can be expected to rise.

Ministry of Transportation and Communication warning signs are erected in areas where moose are known to cross the highway and at all locations where moose crashes are frequent.

The best offence against striking an animal, says the OPP, is an alert and careful driver.

Time to think fire safety

by Doreen Hawman

November is a good time to review your home fire safety preparations.

Your family dwelling should be equipped with smoke detectors, a bonus to you could be a better rate from your insurance company.

Now that many homes have wood stoves, be sure your family doesn't hang their wet belongings too close, a garment falling on a hot stove could mean a disaster.

Be cautious with cigarettes, teach your children to respect matches.

Close all interior doors before retiring, a closed door provides protection against fire and fumes.

Check your Christmas lights very carefully before putting them up, a faulty connection could cause a fire.

Hopefully you may never experience a house fire but if it happens to you a few points to remember.

Arouse everyone in the house, don't wait to get dressed - shoes and a blanket will suffice. Leave by the nearest exit. Before opening an interior door, feel it first - if warm there is a good possibility there is fire on the other side. If you are trapped on an upper floor, place bedding at the door cracks and wait by an open window to be rescued.

Never go back into a burning building for any reason - you could be walking into deadly fumes.

NOTE: Check your fire extinguisher every 6 months, if the gauge indicates "recharge", it needs to be filled. Smaller units tend to leak.

Your extinguisher can be filled at Haliburton Machine Shop. They offer one week service.

Instruct your family as to where the Fire Department phone number is located in your home. Fire Department call numbers in our area are: Haliburton - 457-2323, Minden - 286-1212, Gooderham - 447-2424, Stanhope - 489-2222, Wilberforce - 448-2000.

Drop by the Haliburton County Information Office in the Municipal Building on Maple Street and pick up an interesting brochure pertaining to fabrics and fire.

they maintain separate territories, perhaps a hundred yards in diameter, and protect that range against invaders. The litters of two to eight young remain in the underground burrow for about a month before emerging, and then dispersing to establish new territories for themselves. If they escape the clutches of a hungry fox or owl, these youngsters can expect to live for up to three years in the wild.

So when a balloon-cheeked chipmunk scurries across the road in front of you, tail in the air, you know he is busy preparing for winter. When the winter snows lie deep and silent, the striped storer will be drowsily secure in his burrow, surrounded by the results of his season of gathering.

or grains, making full use of the stretchable pouches inside the cheeks. The capacity of this little animal, seldom more than six inches in length, is amazing. Trapping surveys here disclosed up to 145 grains of wheat in one set of pouches, or 31 kernels of corn, or 13 prune pits, or a total of seven large acorns all at one time!

The naturalist John Burroughs once tested the determination of his neighbourhood chipmunks by providing a supply of hickory nuts and chestnuts by his doorstep. Over a period of three days one animal carried away more than a bushel!

Despite their friendly appearance, chipmunks are solitary animals, coming together only briefly for mating. The rest of the year

Every species of wildlife has a formal Latin name, which all too often seems designed only to plague biology students at examination time. But occasionally these scientific names do have special meanings, as in the case of Tamias striatus. This Greek-Latin combination for the eastern chipmunk roughly translates to "striped storer", and is an accurate description of both the colouration, and the habits of this active little rodent of Ontario's woodlands.

As snowfall approaches, the chipmunk is in a frenzy of storing, collecting seeds and nuts of all descriptions for his underground cache. A chipmunk at work is easy to identify, for his bulging cheeks will be stuffed with a heaping tablespoon of seeds

Choose a child's toy with care

Choosing good toys is far from child's play, says consumer experts.

The wind-up, ride-on, assembly-required world of toys that so delights children, often confounds their parents with the sheer number of products available.

"Some stores offer acres of toys from which to choose," says Pat Weldon of the Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations (MCCR). "But it is possible to pick out the best playthings by comparing a few important factors and doing a bit of research before buying."

One popular source of information, The Toy Report, was released in October as part of national Consumer Week. Produced annually by the Canadian Toy Testing Council, the report rates more than 1,400 playthings. The 1987 edition is being published with the help of the Consumers' Association of Canada (CAC) and is available on newsstands across the country.

Each toy featured is assessed in terms of safety, play value and durability, says Julie Creighton, an executive on the council. The new report also includes a "best bet" list and other hints for toy-hunters.

To get the most from The Toy Report and similar studies, consumers should use the information they provide as a reference when comparison shopping. Don't pick a toy based solely on a good rating. Be sure the product is suitable for your child, Weldon says.

Children often ask for particular toys just because they are connected with popular television programs, Creighton explains. Based on a character's animated exploits, children's expectations of a toy can be unrealistic. For example, plastic figures may not even be bendable or a cuddly-looking creature could turn out to be heavy or unappealing to the touch.

"We think parents should talk a lot more with the child," she says. "Don't be negative about the toy in question, but try to find out if the child's expectations are going to be fulfilled. Often, the best thing is to go into the toy store and ask to see the toy out of its box."

Visits to a few toy stores can settle many concerns and questions for child and parent alike. Plan to make the trip well in advance of Christmas - before hopes and dreams have settled on a particular product. Look at all the toys available, inspecting likely purchases carefully for safety, ease of use and durability - this is where ratings can help. Is the item appropriate for the age and abilities of the child? Is it intended to be an actual plaything or is its purpose purely decorative? Sales staff may be able to answer questions or offer advice about particular products.

While exploring the stores, parents may also want to discuss the concepts of choice and dollar value with their youngsters. Creighton says. Children too young to understand numbers can still grasp the idea that "one of these costs as much as three smaller toys."

Another major issue parents will face again this Christmas involves toys that present violent images. Largely a moral question, the guns-in-the-toybox controversy has to be dealt with on an individual basis by parents, Creighton says. The toy council does not test products perceived to involve violence.

"There are definitely more toys on the market today that focus on aggression and conflict. We get a lot of letters. Many parents are very concerned about this issue, but we feel the question is best left alone. If as a parent, the toy doesn't offend you, then that's your choice to go out and buy it. We just don't want to appear to be lending them credibility."

In general, toys have improved over the years, Creighton says. Manufacturers have become increasingly responsive to consumer needs and demands. For the first time this year, some companies have asked the council to pretest new toys before they are marketed.

"But, as always, it behooves parents to do their homework," she says. "Toys are produced for many different purposes ... it falls upon you as a purchaser to ensure you balance the choices."

BIA President John Pentney accepts a Citation of Merit from Minden Sled Dog Derby organizer Val Lougheed and one of her lead dogs, Spike. Val received the award on behalf of the Minden BIA at the International Sled Dog Racing Association annual meeting last month in Niagara Falls. She noted the organization commended the business association for their enthusiastic support and backing of the sport. The community will host the third annual Sled Dog Derby, The Techni-Cal Challenge with the assistance of Martin Feed Mill during the second weekend in January.

Measures needed to protect agriculture

- Ag report -

Strong measures are needed to make Canadian agriculture a competitive and sustainable venture. This is the conclusion in the report from a Task Force on 'Directions For Sustainable Agriculture' commissioned by the Ontario Institute of Agrologists.

'The financial situation in agriculture is severe and we have recommended severe measures to deal with it', states Freeman McEwen, P. Ag., the Task Force Chairman and Dean of Agriculture at the University of Guelph. The recommendations include establishing national production targets and short-term emergency support programs to permit Canadian farmers to compete on an equal footing on world markets. Other recommendations relate to finance, farm accounting and taxation requirements, to promoting marketing and trade and to emphasising research and development. Human resource adjustment, land use and stewardship, food quality, and merchandising, public awareness and education are other areas that are dealt with in the recommendations.

The Task Force Chairman goes on to say that 'these measures will be costly to implement, but more costly to defer'. The nation cannot permit this essential industry to stagnate and become uncompetitive. Canada's agri-food sector employs nearly 1.5 million people, accounts for more than 10% of our economic activity, supplies most of our food, provides substantial exports and materially contributes to our balance of payments position.

The difficulties in agriculture centre on escalating costs and low commodity prices. The situation affects food producers and also the supply, service, financial, transportation processing and retailing sectors as well as the rural communities. Massive financial support programs in the United States and the European Economic Community have created huge food surpluses. Canada has little option but to compete in the short-run if our agriculture is to remain viable. In the longer-run, world production and support levels must be stabilized on a reasonable basis.

Task Force members include primary producers and agri-business, education, government and farm organization representatives. The Task Force received more than 100 briefs and conducted twelve days of hearings across Ontario. The report is available from the Ontario Institute of Agrologists, University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario, N1G 2W1.

Ventilation in hog barns

Good ventilation in hog barns is particularly important this time of year, when we have wide fluctuations in day/night temperatures, and also wide fluctuations from one day to the next. It is necessary to ensure that exhaust fans and air inlets are clean, properly adjusted, and maintained. Thermostats should be cleaned and checked for accuracy, then adjusted or replaced as necessary.

Use a high-low thermometer to monitor temperature fluctuations in the barn. Temperature fluctuations greater than 3 degree C may put pigs under stress, and have an adverse effect on productivity.

Your goal in ventilation should be to maintain the proper temperature for the class of pig in the room, within 3 degrees C, with a humidity level of 47 to 60 per cent, while avoiding draft conditions in the barn.

Guild news

by Virginia Muenzel

(Intended for last week)

Change is a factor of the human condition - from the new infant who delights us all with constant change and growth from week to week, to those of us who have reached the age of that "September Song" and see too much change in everything!

So we shouldn't be surprised at changes - but we always are - expecting everything to go on forever unchanged!

We have all been surprised last week when Chris Lynd, our popular curator at the Gallery for the last five years, decided to make a change. Although we will miss her, we do know, of course that there comes a time for all of us, when new challenges beckon. We do understand and respect Chris's courage in reaching out for a new direction. We know that you will all join us in thanking her for all the hard work and effort that she has put into our interesting gallery programs and in wishing her the very best of luck and good fortune in the future.

Guild members are invited to a Wine and Cheese Party to be held in Chris's honour in the Gallery at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, November 29 before the Ugly Rumour Dance.

The Gallery "Boutique" closed for the season November 8, in order to give the committee time to prepare for the Christmas sale.

Friday, November 21 at 7:00 p.m. is the official opening of the Christmas details.

Unfortunately, the previously planned smocking workshop was cancelled. But it may be rescheduled on a Saturday in November to be determined. Anyone wishing to participate in making smocked Christmas balls should call the Gallery and leave their name.

As a final note ... a new potter has moved to our area from Burlington. Jeanette Edwardes has already expressed an interest in our Guild activities, and her presence is most welcome.

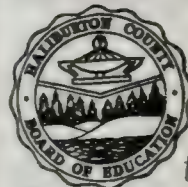

Sale of arts and crafts. The sale runs until December 20. Hours are Tuesday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

Vi Elder is organizing the many staff helpers necessary to run the sale. She tells me the volunteers are lining up, but that she is having problems staffing for the weekends. If you are able to help for a few hours, please call her at 754-2775. Or call Lucy Slykerman at 457-3263 for Bill Park, Kushog Marine, recently received an award for being tops in sales for Sportcraft boats in the world. The plaque was presented to Bill October 18 at the Canadian Association of Marine Trades and Congress held in Toronto. Bill noted that the honour was the result of a combined effort of his mother Bernice, brother Tim and himself who operate the marina north of Carnarvon.

The meals are $2.50 per meal delivered by a friendly volunteer three times a week, but arrangements can be made to provide you with meals for seven days a week.

If you or if you know someone who could benefit from this program or require more information, please feel free to contact the office at 457-2941 any weekday between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

New resource book available

With the arrival of new sets of World Book Encyclopedia, a new programme of renewal for the reference collection of the County Library has been put into place. The plan will see the immediate placing of new editions of the reference tool in major libraries within the county system where the need is greatest. In making the announcement, Joel Levis, County Librarian remarked that it was but the "first step in making the most efficient use of monies which have been set aside for new materials in the system."

When questioned further, he reported that the policy would see a limited number of these and other new reference materials acquired each year and these would be moved from library to library so that no library would have a World Book Encyclopedia older than five years which "is within standards recommended by professional librarians".

"We can't do it overnight," he concluded, "but we have taken the first step toward an achievable objective. There are changes to be seen in the various branches of the County Library; we should all try to see what they are by visiting the branch near us on a regular basis."

Police issue assault warning

Since October 9, of this year, Ontario Provincial Police Detachments in both Millbrook and Lindsay have investigated sexual assaults of women which involved violence.

In each incident, single women operating vehicles were followed from Lansdowne Street in Peterborough at 8:30 p.m. by a single male person in a pick-up truck. The assailant flicked the trucks headlights to alert the victim to stop her vehicle. In each assault, the victim was drawn from the car on a belief a gas tank was leaking or a tire appeared loose. The victims were forcibly sexually assaulted and struck by the assailant.

The suspect is described as a male, 30 - 35 years, tall, thin to regular build, dark blonde hair, thin face with a large nose, clean shaven, and notably large hands. He had good teeth.

Police are concerned the suspect may have access to several vehicles. In the first assault, a dirty Dodge or Plymouth pick-up, white with a red stripe or red bottom with oval shaped fog lamps mounted below headlights and may be either a standard shift or 4-wheel drive vehicle.

In the second assault, a 12 ton pick-up tan or bronze colour with a cap was used by the assailant. This vehicle had an automatic transmission, vinyl seats gold or tan coloured and was fairly new. The vehicle was clean and in good condition.

In both assaults, the victims were stopped in isolated country areas surrounding Peterborough, one at Fowlers Corners and the second on Highway 28, south of Peterborough.

The Ontario Provincial Police need public support in apprehending the assailant in these sexual assaults on women. Anyone who knows of vehicles and persons fitting the description of the assailant must immediately alert their nearest O.P.P. Detachment or the Peterborough Police Force at 876-1122.

The O.P.P. are issuing a special alert to single women motorists to not pull over for any suspicious vehicles approaching or following them with flashing headlights. If they do encounter such a vehicle, continue driving to the nearest lighted area in which people are present such as snack bars, garages, or other similar areas. If followed into these areas, remain in your locked car and using the horn on the car alert others to the area prior to leaving the vehicle.

As well, the Police believe other persons may have been approached by the assailant and not stopped. The O.P.P. need all information concerning these attempts.

Above all, single women should never drive in their vehicles, or leave their vehicles, without the doors being locked.

WHY A CHEAP SLED MAY NOT BE THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

Today, the cheapest sled costs about $1500. And it's not an Arctic Cat!

Instead of building a cheap sled, we build the most economical snowmobile in the world. The Jag. The Jag gets better mileage from its powerful 440 c.c. twin engine than the cheap sleds get from their little 250 c.c. singles. Snow Goer magazine rated the 1985 Jag at 33 mpg in real world conditions.

And don't forget, the Jag is an Arctic Cat, backed by genuine Arctic Parts and Accessories, and warm stylish Arcticwear clothes. The Jag. There are cheaper sleds, but none more economical.

YOU DON'T PAY EXTRA FOR THE NAME.

Gospel church welcomes new pastor

submitted

On Tuesday evening, November 4, a Ryder truck, pulling a U-Haul trailer, followed by a cream-coloured Dodge Caravan, pulled into Minden. In these vehicles were two adults, four children, a dog and a bird. Their destination was the Minden Gospel Church on Bobcaygeon Road.

Who were these new visitors to the community? The new Pastor and family of the Minden Gospel Church: Pastor Jim Fast, his wife Beth and their four children, Jonathon 7 1/2 years, Jared, 6 years, Peter 3 years and Matthew 8 months.

The Fast family came to Minden from the Ottawa Valley where they pastored a new church for just over three years. Previous to that, Pastor Fast was youth pastor at Grace Church in Newmarket.

Pastor Fast is ordained and has pastored with the Associated Gospel Churches for nearly eight and a half years.

He was born in Saskat-

Minden Gospel Church's new Pastor Jim Fast with his wife Beth and their sons Matthew (in arms), and from the left Jared, Jonathon and Peter.

chewan and lived there until her was thirteen. His family then moved to Winnipeg.

Pastor Fast and his wife are both graduates of Winnipeg Bible College. At present he is continuing his studies on a part-time basis at Ontario Theological Seminary.

Beth was born in Toronto and grew up in southern Ontario. She spent much of her time at Fairhavens Bible Conference which is situated on Highway 48 near Bolsover, where her father was director for twenty-one years.

Beth majored in music at college and taught voice and piano while in the Ottawa Valley.

The Fast family come to Minden with a deep love and concern for people. They desire to see the Lord glorified through the ministry here and extend a warm hearty invitation to you to visit Minden Gospel Church. The new service schedule is: Sunday 10:30 a.m. Worship Service, 6:30 p.m. Family Fellowship Time. Thursday, 6:30 p.m. Family Night.

Raising a family creates conflicting demands

by Faith Aggett

Who gains when using child care? That can be quite a debated question!

Those opposing day care find very little that is beneficial. Home is best! Those promoting the various child care programmes, argue that there are definite advantages to the whole family. I tend to feel there is truth to both sides.

A warm loving home is a strong base for a child to expand from. He needs the security and encouragement of a strong family unit upon which to build a trust of adults and environment. Nursery school, play groups or day care give the child a safe and positive environment upon which to test these trusts. They are an extension of the family and a support system to all members.

In today's society, a family unit can mean many things, but in most cases, because of our mobility, the extended family can no longer play the same role as in the past. Resource centres and other family programmes fill in the gaps.

The pace of our lifestyles has also changed. There seems to be so much to do in so little time and so much competition to succeed. Whereas, it was the man coping with all the pressures of the working world, now too, we have the super-mom maintaining a household, coping with the business world and finding time to be a parent as well. It takes a strong person to work out a balance that can meet everyone's needs.

Some may feel that during the child's waking hours we should devote ourselves entirely to a one to one relationship. I would argue that quantity does not mean quality. Often you will end up with a little adult beyond their chronological years who has trouble relating to his or her peers; a child who relies entirely on an adult to "entertain" him and hasn't a clue how to occupy him-self; or a child who is extremely egocentric and narrow minded and has difficulty sharing ideas.

The parent who playfully spends every waking hour with their child, I feel, is in grave danger of having an ever narrowing focus on life. What does one discuss when one's husband comes home or one's neighbour drops by? What does one do with oneself when the child goes to school? It may well add a bit of freshness to all the family if all were to pursue their own interests to some degree and exchange the day's events round the dinner table. The child would benefit from socialization with others of his age group.

On the other hand, many of us are so caught up in our daily responsibilities, that in our attempt to fit everything into a day's span, we forget how to play and to relax. Those children often work beside us, share half a conversation with us and feel half as important. Those with the busy schedule might be able to complete their tasks faster and with less frustration while their children were enjoying themselves at nursery school and be ready to relax and give of their time at the end of the day.

Those in charge of any child's programme, accept the responsibility of providing a regular routine that children will find comforting. It is the staff's job to be attentive to the children's needs physically and emotionally and to encourage group social interaction appropriate for the age group. Their job is defined and for those eight hours child care is their sole occupation. There is no competition with cooking, cleaning, washing and ironing.

Perhaps, when looked at from what the family may gain from child care, it is not a bad institution. To those who can unsupportably manage to keep an even keel in our speeding society, I applaud you, for it is a difficult course to steer.

Hello folks. Snow coming thick and fast. "How nice" some say.

Our service in the chapel was taken Sunday evening by Rev. and Mrs. Burgess. On Tuesday morning the new pastor of Minden Gospel Church, Mr. Jim Fast took charge of the service. We hope he will come again soon.

The movies Monday evening were St. Lawrence North, and Windows on the Past, and were enjoyed very much.

The Bazaar and Tea put on by the Auxiliary on Thursday afternoon was quite successful and enjoyable. The crocheted doll was won on a lucky ticket by Jean Radell and the wall hanging was won by Gloria Lemieux.

Ruby Lewis had her brother call on her on Tuesday.

We are glad to have Edna Cowan home again and feeling lots better.

Doris is planning a bus trip for us tomorrow. We don't know yet where.

Charlie Brohm had a visit from two of his grandchildren, Kim and Sarah.

Several of Mrs. Nesbitt's family called to see her during the week.

For each tear there is a smile, your sorrow will give way to joy in just a little while.

More next week.

Hi Kids!!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: What would happen very soon if you swallowed your cereal spoon?

A: You wouldn't be able to stir.

Q: Fun all day, empty at rest, both of us, are very hard pressed.

A: A pair of shoes.

Q: Have you the slightest notion what bus crossed the ocean?

A: Colom-bus.

Q: What did the near-sighted porcupine say when he backed into a cactus one day?

A: Excuse me, honey.

Q: What is bought by the yard but worn out by the foot?

A: A carpet.

Q: Why is a lawyer like a ballet dancer?

A: They both practice at the bar.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

In times of great stress or emotion, people have traditionally expressed themselves through music. It is therefore, not surprising that music is very closely associated with war.

Marching songs inspired the soldier as he went into war; drinking songs cemented his camaraderie with his fellow soldiers; sentimental love songs served to remind the lonely frightened youth of his home far away; military music carried him to his final rest; well-known hymns served to comfort and support the loved ones in their grief.

Music is an integral part of Remembrance Day ceremonies as well. At the climax of traditional services, such as the one at the cenotaph in Haliburton, a bugle plays the Last Post. This is followed by a period of two minutes' silence and the playing of Reveille. This is a reversal of military tradition in which reveille is used to rouse the camp in the morning and the last post is played to end the day. In the Remembrance Day service, the last post symbolizes death. The subsequent playing of reveille signifies the soldier lives on and life continues.

Music also played an integral part in the Remembrance Day banquet at the legion. After the delicious meal, prepared by volunteers under the supervision of Branch 129 manager Jim Tice and served by member of the legion sponsored cadet corps and their training officer Luke Schell. John Miller accompanied by Melissa Stephens brought an appropriate message in song to those at the dinner.

John has a superb voice and sang He's not Heavy, He's my Brother, The Impossible Dream and Let There be Peace on Earth. With this last number he had everyone join him in the chorus. As an encore, John sang Danny Boy.

Reeve Murray Fearrey spoke with pride about the legion's involvement in the county.

Guest speaker for the evening was Zone Padre Rev. Dr. Clifford Waite, D.F.C., M.A., D.D. Cliff is an amiable person and a dynamic speaker. He held his audience spellbound and delivered a very meaningful message.

President Joan's address at the Remembrance Day service was inspiring and developed a theme of "...if ye break faith..."

It was very nice to see so many school students at the service at the Cenotaph.

Your legion has honoured its commitment to cadets by depositing five thousand dollars in their account.

Some very pleasant honours were bestowed on your legion and some of its members. The Civitan Club of Newmarket, the people who operated the child identification programme here sent certificates declaring Branch 129, Colin Seers, Nina and Wally Chambers, Joan and Gerald Irish citizens of their community. All of the recipients were extremely proud of this recognition.

Honours and Awards chairman. Immediate Past President Comrade Bruce McKay, chaired the awards ceremonies after the Remembrance Day dinner. Pins were presented to members for from five to forty-five years of legion membership. Comrade Bruce did an excellent job.

Don't forget the executive meeting at 7:30 p.m. on November 27 and the general meeting at 8 p.m. December 4. See you there.

Christmas will soon be here. When Santa visits the boys and girls in Haliburton your legion will once again supply the bags of candies and goodies distributed each year. Santa's visit is arranged by the Rotary Club with Legion support.

Intended for last week

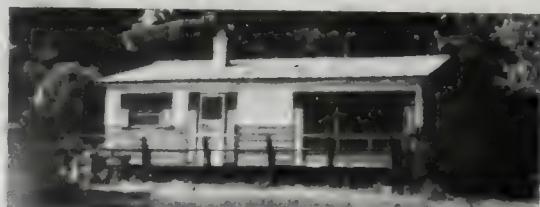

On Sunday, your Legion Colour Party and Legionnaires attended the Anglican Church Service at the Haliburton United Church. Then, at 2 p.m. there was the service of Remembrance at the County Cairn in Minden. This service was well attended by Legionnaires from Haliburton and Kinmount. The eight-member Legion Pipe Band did its usual magnificent job. Everyone enjoyed the lunch and camaraderie following the programme.

On Tuesday, Legion will be holding five school Remembrance Day programmes. On the morning of November 11 there will be one service at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School, two services at the J. D. Hodgson Elementary School and the Service of Remembrance at the Haliburton Legion starting at 10 a.m., followed by the service at the cenotaph.

In the afternoon, there will be two Remembrance programmes at the High School and in the evening, the Remembrance Day Dinner and the Honours and Awards ceremonies. It looks like a very busy day.

How can anyone praise highly enough the Legion members, Cadets and volunteers who have worked so hard to make this year's Poppy campaign such a success. I feel confident that this will be a record year. Of course, the hard work, dedication and organizational skills of Poppy Chairman Comrade Irv Chambers have had a great deal to do with this success. Working hand in hand with Irv through the campaign is his lovely wife Marnie. Thank you both.

Unfortunately three names have been added to our Sick and Visiting List - Jean Cowen of Minden, Ted Hellings from Cardiff and from Kinmount, Zone Sports Officer Albert Crego. We wish everyone on the sick list, a get-well soon and hurry back to join us.
